The Jungle

In the heart of the jungle, where the sunlight peeks,
A magical world, where the wildness speaks.
Tall trees standing proud, reaching for the sky,
A symphony of nature, as the winds whisper by.

Creatures of the jungle, both big and small,
Leopards with spots and snakes that slither, so tall.
Monkeys swing with glee, from vine to vine,
In this lively dance, where the sun does shine.

A canvas of green, where leaves gently sway,
Parrots with feathers in hues so bold and gay.
Butterflies flutter, a rainbow in the air,
In this vibrant jungle, where life is beyond compare.

Rivers winding through, with a gentle flow,
Crocodiles resting, with movements slow.
In the heart of the jungle, a place so divine,
A world of wonders, where the sun and shadows entwine.

2. How do the monkeys move in the jungle, and what is it described as?

3. What is described as a canvas of green in the jungle? _____
