

Name: _____

Reading Comprehension

Read the text and answer the questions.

The Bread Thief

In the cozy town of Harmonyville, a kind man named Mr. Anderson faced a tough choice when his family was hungry. With no money for food, he took a loaf of bread from the bakery. The town quickly became divided - some thought he should be punished, while others wanted to help.

Kids from Harmonyville Elementary School even had discussions about it in class. Some said Mr. Anderson should have asked for help, while others understood he was just trying to feed his family.

The wise Judge Miller listened to everyone and decided not to punish Mr. Anderson. Instead, she asked the community to work together to help families like his. Now, Harmonyville is coming together to make sure no one goes to bed hungry. It's a lesson for us all about understanding and helping each other when times get tough.

1. Where does this event take place?

2. What tough choice did Mr Anderson face?

3. What crime did Mr Anderson commit?

4. What did the judge decide in the end?

5. What do you think should have happened to Mr Anderson?

Reading Comprehension

Read the text and answer the questions.

The Bread Thief

In the cozy town of Harmonyville, a kind man named Mr. Anderson faced a tough choice when his family was hungry. With no money for food, he took a loaf of bread from the bakery. The town quickly became divided - some thought he should be punished, while others wanted to help.

Kids from Harmonyville Elementary School even had discussions about it in class. Some said Mr. Anderson should have asked for help, while others understood he was just trying to feed his family.

The wise Judge Miller listened to everyone and decided not to punish Mr. Anderson. Instead, she asked the community to work together to help families like his. Now, Harmonyville is coming together to make sure no one goes to bed hungry. It's a lesson for us all about understanding and helping each other when times get tough.

1. Where does this event take place? In Harmonyville.
2. What tough choice did Mr Anderson face? The tough choice was between stealing bread of seeing his family go hungry.
3. What crime did Mr Anderson commit? He stole some bread.
4. What did the judge decide in the end? The judge decided to not punish him.
5. What do you think should have happened to Mr Anderson? Answers will vary.